CIVIL WAR?
IDA TARBELL.
CRIME AND BOOTLEGGING.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

THOMAS A. EDISON tells President Hoover, through the "Indiana Manufacturing News," that "one of the highest duties of the President is to keep the Government out of business."

That depends on the kind of business, on the honesty and efficiency of government.

Mr. Edison wouldn't have the Government abandon the postoffice and turn it over to Wall street promoters.

The postoffice is a business. It carries a letter from the southern tip of Florida to the northern tip of Alaska for two cents.

And carries it safely.

New York explodes gasoline in a big way. In the first six months of 1929, the State taxed 774,702.46 gallons of gasoline, not including gasoline used by farmers.

It would have taken 968 freight trains, of eighty cars each to carry that gasoline. Who would have believed that, when Senator Cuzens was investing less than $2,000 in the little Ford car, he would take out, within a short time, $30,000.00 as his share?

A Coast Guard ship chasing a rum-running boat killed two of the four men on board, wounded the fourth. Other rum-running killings, here and there, in the day's news.

Rear Admiral Billard warns bootleggers that his Coast Guard means business. No "soft words" will be used. Rum runners are told they will stop when ordered or "get hurt."

Ida M. Tarbell deprecates prohibition and asks: "Is prohibition really civil war?"

Before the Civil war there was Anti- and Pro-Slavery Party.

Miss Tarbell sees now a wet and a dry party, and repeats the question that Karl Schurz asked five years before Fort Sumter was fired on. "Can this fight be decided without powder?"

The Moderation League, perhaps prejudiced, says intoxication is increasing rapidly, among children, the rate of death from alcoholism is higher and arrests for drunkenness in 1928 were most numerous since 1914.

Prohibition is here, it is in the Constitution and there it will outlast any now living.

Jane Addams says: "A great number of young people are drinking from a sense of bravado."

It may be bravado, but that will not help the young people's kidneys, brains or character, unfortunately.

The question for the people is "What can be done about it?"

Thomas Jefferson told the legislature of Virginia, giving a letter of introduction for an English brewer, that he thought light beer and wine the only means of combating whiskey.

That idea has been abandoned.

India seeks absolute self government suggesting refusal to pay taxes, a situation that worries Britain's Labor government, in charge of India among other imperial details.

The well-meaning Mahatma Gandhi has his way, India will learn a lesson.

Taxes collected by rajahs, or overnight dictators, would NOT be used to supply pure water, or fight plague and famine.

There is a fertile field for sowing Russian propaganda, only more than 299,000,000 of the 300,000,000 inhabitants of India wouldn't know what the Russians were talking about.

Court Asked to Rule On Will of Woman

Lisbon, Jan. 2.—Declaring that the text of a purported will is in different handwriting and that the color of ink is different also, W. O. Wallace in a petition filed in common pleas court asks that the last will of the late Laura Gilmore be construed by the court.

Bertha Sample of near Columbiana is the defendant with a number of others, one of whom resides in England.

The decedent died at the county home recently. The estate is said to be worth $6,000. By the will of the husband of Laura Gilmore her share was left in the charge of B. F. Wirt as trustee.

The contest over the will of Gilmore went to the supreme court of Ohio twice before it was definitely determined. One of the heirs of the estate at bar and who resides in England is said to be the wife of a duke.

TRAFFIC TOLL FOR NEW YEAR HEAVY

Mayor's Court Income Shows Falling Off

$5,000 DECREASE NOTED IN YEAR OVER '28 FIGURE

February Marked Peak In Past Year With $1,347.50

STATE'S, COUNTY'S SHARE ALSO LOW

Big Decrease In Fines Assessed In Court of Hiddleston

A total of $7,272.43, more than $5,000 less than the amount taken in during 1928, was received by the city of Salem in the past year through the assessment of fines and costs in criminal cases and issuance of permits and licenses in Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston's court.

The grand total collected in Hiddleston's office during the entire year, which includes money paid to the county, was more than $6,000 under that of the year previous while fines in the city cases were only half of the total collected during 1928.

City fines during 1929 totalled $5,383.36. In 1928 they amounted to $11,739.74. Costs last year in city cases brought Salem a total of $871.97 while in 1928 the city realized $1,450.30.

Licenses netted the city $857.60 last year compared to more than $2,000 in 1928. Only a slight difference is registered in money received from building permits, $159 being obtained in 1929 and $162 a year ago.

All money taken in by Mayor Hiddleston's office during the year amounted to $8,353.88.

Of this sum, however, $77.50 goes to the county in state cases while the state receives $508.15. The county in 1928 received $617.30 and state benefited to the extent of $1,462.50 the same year.

February was the best month of the year for the city, the mayor taking in $1,347.50 in fines during the month. January was second with fines totalling $1,212.50. These were the only months of the year during which the thousand dollar mark was passed in fines.

Mayor Davidson In Court First Time

Mayor John M. Davidson's first official action, New Year's Day, was to fine Fred Dahlke, Salem resident, $5 and costs on a charge of intoxication.

Dahlke was arrested by Patrolman William Reardon.

It was the only arrest made by Salem police during the first day of 1930 and the only case brought before the new mayor in the 24-hour period.

REDS ARRESTED AT WELCOMING

Mexican President - Elect Center of Scene At Detroit Station

Detroit, Jan. 2.—Two alleged communists were being held by police today as participants in a hostile demonstration staged upon the arrival in Detroit of Pascual Ortiz Rubio, president-elect of Mexico.

The men under arrest are Philip Raymond, secretary of the Auto Workers Union, and Lawrence Gosman, 18. They are charged with inciting to riot. Police are holding them for United States department of justice officials.

The hostile demonstration in which about 200 young men and women, said to be local communists, participated, occurred last night in the Michigan central depot, when the Mexican president-elect arrived here.

Nearly 2,000 of Detroit's 5,000 Mexican residents had assembled in the station to welcome Ortiz Rubio. The delegation had formed in two lines between which the president-elect and his party were to pass. While the lines were forming the communists, giving no signs of their hostile intentions, joined the ranks. So orderly were they that detectives circulating through the crowd foresaw no trouble.

As soon as Ortiz Rubio was sighted, however, the demonstration began. While the 2,000 friends were calling out their cries of welcome the 200 shouted previously concealed plans bearing in red ink denunciations of both Ortiz Rubio and President Herbert Hoover.

The monthly marriage license record for 1929 follows: January 42; February 29; March 32; April 42; May 52; June 93; July 58; August 66; September 44; October 44; November 39; December 43.

CAPITAL "WETS" PLANNING DRIVE ON PROHIBITION

Modification of Volstead Act Among Expected Suggestions

SPURRED ON BY RUM KILLINGS

Action Expected Would Be First Concerted Move Made

Washington, Jan. 2.—An ambitious program designed to halt the alleged invasion of the constitutional rights of citizens in enforcement of the prohibition law and ultimately to bring about modification of the Volstead act is being developed by congressional "wets," it was disclosed today.

This is the answer of the anti-prohibitionists to the plans of the administration to reorganize the whole system of dry law enforcement, and the controversy raging among senate drys.

The "wet" campaign is expected to bring before congress and the country for the first time since national prohibition became effective, a real "wet platform" around which all liberals may rally.

No Program Presented

During the entire congressional war over prohibition, it is pointed out by leading "wets," there never has been a concrete program presented in opposition to the dry forces, and the "wet" opposition has been largely confined to sniping.

Among the planks which may be included in the "wet platform" are:

Legislation providing heavy penalties for prohibition officers who violate the constitutional guarantees against search and seizure in raids.

Modification of Section 581 of the tariff act of 1923 under which it is alleged, the coast guard and customs officers have virtual wartime powers to shoot and kill suspects.

Measure indemnifying innocent victims of the bullets of enforcement officers.

Bill prohibiting telephone and telegraph wire tapping to obtain a check today.

Louis Tynnos, 19, was murdered yesterday by an unknown gunman who fired on the youth as he was leaving a party at the home of Miss Anna Buchak here. An argument over the possession of a shotgun was responsible for the death of John Knapp, 32, the weapon discharged as Knapp and Fred Krasinski, drug store clerk, grappled over it when the latter ordered Knapp out of the store.

Stabbed by one of five uninvited guests who attempted to force their way into his house, Edward Kanuch, 18, was in a serious condition here today with four wounds in his abdomen.

Brada Frucio, 22, who attempted to celebrate the advent of the New Year by firing a revolver, shot himself accidentally in the right leg.

Mrs. Vern Krause, 26, was clipped in the face by a stray revolver shot which came through the top of the automobile in which she was riding.

Four-H Clubs To Gather at Greenford

Four H clubs of Green township, Mahoning county, will hold an achievement meeting and celebration Friday night at Greenford grange hall.

The Greenford G. C. P. club, one of four clubs in the township, for three successive times has won a cup offered by the Mahoning County Agricultural society for meritorious work. Ten of its members have received A-grade for work. This cup is now the property of the club.

Dog Quarantine In Effect; Child Bitten

The first dog quarantine ever enforced in this city was placed into effect this week by County Dog Warden C. E. Donahay.

The quarantine was placed in effect after a dog, allegedly owned by a resident of West State st., bit a child here last week. A large red sign, similar to all quarantine signs is placed on the front of the house while the dog is kept under observation.

SALEM BUILDING NEAR TO RECORD IN YEAR OF 1929

Surpassed Only by Great Year of 1928 Which Set High Peak

BANK BUILDING NEAR COMPLETION

Factory, Residences Also At Excellent Level; Total $490,605

The city of Salem passed through another era of great construction activity in 1929, building projects during the past 12 months reaching the high total of $490,605.

This last year's total is less than $10,000 under the record construction period of 1928 when all previous building marks in the city were more than doubled. The 1928 total was $496,295.

Building here during the first six-months period last year surpassed all previous six-month records but a sudden drop was started in July and was continued through to the end of the year. Construction here amounted to $274,870 the first six months and only $115,735 the latter half of the year.

One hundred fifty-nine building permits were issued by Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston during the year, seven less than the total issued in 1928.

New Bank Building

The construction of the new First National bank building, estimated to cost $140,000 was the outstanding project undertaken during the year. The Church Budget Envelope company secured a permit early in the year for its new $60,000 factory and the Mullins Manufacturing company also constructed a $60,000 improvement.

Building during the past four years has made a steady growth and the 1929 total is far in excess of any with the exception of the 1928 record when construction here was of greater magnitude than at any time in the city's history. In 1926 time in the city's history. In 1926 time in the city's history. In 1926 time in the city's history.

Then in 1927, permits issued totalled 129 and the total cost of the projects was four times the 1926 amount. It was $238,740. This mark was more than doubled by the 1928 total.

"WHOOPEE" TOLL AT TWO LIVES

Three On Injured List In Cleveland; Woman Hit by Bullet

Cleveland, Jan. 2.—Two dead and three wounded was Cleveland's New Year "whoopie" toll, according to a check today.

Louis Tynnos, 19, was murdered yesterday by an unknown gunman who fired on the youth as he was leaving a party at the home of Miss Anna Buchak here. An argument over the possession of a shotgun was responsible for the death of John Knapp, 32, the weapon discharged as Knapp and Fred Krasinski, drug store clerk, grappled over it when the latter ordered Knapp out of the store.

Stabbed by one of five uninvited guests who attempted to force their way into his house, Edward Kanuch, 18, was in a serious condition here today with four wounds in his abdomen.

Brada Frucio, 22, who attempted to celebrate the advent of the New Year by firing a revolver, shot himself accidentally in the right leg.

Mrs. Vern Krause, 26, was clipped in the face by a stray revolver shot which came through the top of the automobile in which she was riding.

There is only one prisoner now in the custody of the sheriff charged with murder, but another is charged with shooting with intent to kill and wound.

All others are charged with lesser crimes and offenses.

Kerr Takes Over Safety Post

John R. Kerr, was formally inducted into his office of director of public safety of the city of Salem, Wednesday, following the resignation of Mayor John M. Davidson.

Mrs. Rugg's resignation was effective yesterday. Kerr was sworn in to office by Davidson at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Oaths of office were administered to Helen B. Woerther, city auditor, and Councilman Max Adler, by the mayor, today.

Other officers for the 1930-31 term will probably be sworn in this afternoon.

Wales Ready To Resume Trip In African Wilderness

London, Jan. 2.—Final preparations were being made today by the Prince of Wales for his departure for Africa to resume the hunting trip which was cut short by his father's illness late in 1928.

The prince is leaving tomorrow aboard the Union Castle liner Kenilworth Castle for Cape Town.

PRISON RECORD IN COLUMBIANA AT NEW LEVEL

521 Registered At County Institution In Year, Sheriff Reports

Lisbon, Jan. 2.—During 1929 there were 521 prisoners registered at the county jail, it was announced today by Sheriff W. J. Barlow.

When Barlow took office Jan. 6, last year, he had 48 prisoners turned over to him, the jail records disclose, and the record number of prisoners in the county jail during a single day last year stands at 54.

There were 32 prisoners in jail New Year's day.

For the first time in many months there is now a single cell in the county jail unoccupied.

It is the opinion of Sheriff Barlow that more prisoners were received during the last year for violating the liquor laws than for any other offense, those charged with non support stand a close second in numbers.

The record of the receipt of 521 prisoners within a year, stands as a new high for Columbiana county. Prisoners were received from all courts in the county.

There is only one prisoner now in the custody of the sheriff charged with murder, but another is charged with shooting with intent to kill and wound.

All others are charged with lesser crimes and offenses.

Wales Ready To Resume Trip In African Wilderness

London, Jan. 2.—Final preparations were being made today by the Prince of Wales for his departure for Africa to resume the hunting trip which was cut short by his father's illness late in 1928.

The prince is leaving tomorrow aboard the Union Castle liner Kenilworth Castle for Cape Town.

The heir to the throne spent the morning at York house, his London residence, superintending the packing of his belongings, which include an entire new hunting arsenal. The prince found on his last trip that most of his guns were obsolete and inadequate, and one well-known gun authority told International News Service that some of them were actually dangerous.

There will be no formality about this trip. The prince will live as a hunter among hunters, sitting at the same campfires and sharing the same food and the same dangers.

POLICE ARREST 438 DURING 1929; BELOW '28 MARK

Intoxication caused many; One Less Than In Year of 1928

LIQUOR VIOLATION CHARGES LOWER

April Led Year With Average of Two Each Day

A total of 438 arrests were made by the Salem police department during the year 1929. Police Chief T. W. Thompson reported today in his annual police report.

The year's total is a decrease of 54 arrests from 1928 when 492 arrests were made. It is seven less than the 1927 total and 145 more than were registered in 1926.

Arrests on charges of intoxication led the entire list of cases brought into Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston's court, 102 persons being lodged in city jail on that charge. In 1928, 103 arrests were made on intoxication charges while the year previous intoxication cases totalled 120.

A decrease was also noticeable in more serious liquor violation arrests, only 39 being made last year in comparison to 46 last year and 35 in 1927. Twenty persons were arrested for possession of intoxicating liquors, two for possession of implements designed for the manufacture of liquor, and one for manufacturing. Seven were arrested for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Only three arrests were made on burglary charges during the entire year. Last year there were 23 and in 1927 13.

A total of 464 calls and complaints were answered and 60 searches made for liquor. Thirty-two of these searches were made all in one month, last January.

Arrests made each month during the year follow:

January 36; February 36, March 52, April 60, May 40, June 31, July 28, August 30, September 39, October 30, November 40, December 16.

Firemen Make First 1930 Blaze Run

Salem firemen answered their first alarm of the New Year, extinguishing a burning automobile on the Blackburn hill, west of the city, at 11:12 a. m. Wednesday.

The automobile, a Hudson coach owned by W. J. Loy of Youngstown, was badly damaged, Fire Chief V. L. Malloy, reported today.

PLANE REPORTED LOST OVER BAY

No Trace of Craft Or Pilot Found In Search

BULLETIN

Sandusky, O., Jan. 2.—What was reported to have been a burning plane plunging into Sandusky Bay last night was revealed today as only a fourth of July flare balloon sent up by boys celebrating the advent of the new year.

Sandusky, O., Jan. 2.—An attempt was being made here today to solve the mystery of a distressed airplane, which was reported to have fallen on Johnson's Island late yesterday while its pilot swung down on a parachute. A search of the island has revealed no trace of either the plane or its pilot.

Reports that the plane crashed on the island, which is uninhabited, were received by Sheriff John W. Parker and coast guard officials late yesterday.

An unknown woman who telephoned the report said she saw the plane, evidently in distress, dropping flares.

A few minutes later, she said, she saw a man swinging down from a parachute.

A second report was received from Patrolman Ronald Bravard of Sandusky, who said he also saw flares dropping from an aircraft, later the motor of the craft stopped, Bravard said, and the plane disappeared.

Searchers scoured the vicinity but found no traces of the plane. According to officials of the Cleveland airport, all planes scheduled there were landed.

Drivers Arrested

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—Three persons had been arrested here today for driving their automobiles with 1929 license tags. The deadline for the old tags was midnight Tuesday.

City Council Ends Term At Session

Members of city council for the 1929-30 term turned over the city's legislative business to the incoming council, meeting for its final session at city hall New Year's eve.

Mayor John M. Davidson was a visitor at the meeting and addressed council for a short period, commending its members for the work done during the past two years.

Council adjourned after the reading of the minutes of the meeting held two weeks previously.

HOOVER'S CRIME COMMISSION IN STORM CENTER

Wets and Drys Debating Outcome of Work By Group

PREDICT EVASION OF BOOZE ISSUE

Wet Ranks To Launch Attacks Regarding Enforcement

Washington, Jan. 2.—The prohibition flare, with ever widening range, thrust President Hoover's law enforcement commission back into the congressional spotlight today with wet and dry leaders clashing over its functions.

An announcement by Senator Jones (R) of Washington, noted dry, that the commission would not consider the "wisdom or unwisdom of the eighteenth amendment," provoked a new attack from the wets.

The latter charged the commission would "surrender one of its principal functions" if it failed to investigate the "enforceability" of the dry law.

Another statement by Jones that the commission had filed an "impartial report" with President Hoover led to a fresh split in the dry ranks. Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, a constitutional dry, disputed Jones' assertion and declared the commission had submitted no such report in recent days.

Referred to First Report

Jones apparently referred to the preliminary report, which the commission sent Mr. Hoover a month ago, while Borah indicated he meant the commission had been silent since the start of the present controversy some ten days ago.

The commission's preliminary report, thoroughly aired though never made public by the White House, dealt with court congestion, the transfer of the enforcement machinery from the treasury to the justice department, the codification of prohibition statutes and unification of the border patrol.

Mr. Hoover, according to Jones, will send these recommendations to congress as soon as a joint congressional committee is formed to handle them. This committee will be created shortly after congress returns next week.

CHILDREN AT HEART

The exuberance of youth finds expression in the high-powered automobile which can be driven at a speed of from sixty to eighty miles an hour, and the more noise the better. Occasionally some youngster more thoughtless than the others gratifies his longings and reveals in a burst of break-neck driving, but he usually ends up in jail charged with anything from intoxication to manslaughter. Offenders are fined and recommended to the race track for their exhibitions and that is all that is said about the matter. But the urge lives on and on and seeks any opportunity to find release.

Grover A. Whalen, police commissioner of New York, who is in Chicago for deep and mysterious purposes, had one of the thrills of his colorful life the other day when the police of the Windy City revived "Big Bill" Thompson's style of travel and took him on a seventy-mile an hour tour of the town. It was the one chance of his lifetime to gratify a suppressed desire of childhood.

Motorcycles to the front and rear, sirens whining their way through the congested Loop district, high-powered motors roaring out over the smooth-surfaced boulevards, pedestrians jumping out of the way, business traffic scuttling to the curb, while Chicago entertained. The scene can be appreciated by any one who has seen a pair of mischievous boys on a new wagon.

In this manner of travel, which Mayor Thompson was forced to abandon by popular disfavor, traffic lights are disregarded with a fine disdain for safety and common sense. But, since Whalen announced that one of the purposes of his visit is to study the stop-and-go system his rousing ride presumably was justified. He knows now how easy it is to ignore safety devices when one has a pull, which is beyond a doubt one of the major traffic problems.

There is certainly a conflict between those who ride through traffic lights at seventy miles an hour and get away with it and those who try to do it and get a penalty. What is sauce for the citizen should be sauce for the police department, excepting in cases of particular necessity and Grover Whalen's wild ride through Chicago was certainly not a necessity. It was nothing more or less than a resumption of the old custom of the noblemen driving chariots over their helpless tenants.

It is amusing outside of Chicago, but it is a grim problem in Chicago. When children are put into office, they can be expected to act like children—no more, no less.

After watching holiday crowds on trains we aren't so skeptical of some of the antics in these movie cartoons.

Possibly it will be permitted to remark that we now have an Edge on the French.

What Others Say

ANTELOPE ARE COMING BACK

The little prong-horned antelope are the faintest and the fastest animal that ever skinned the North American horizon within the historic period. Half a century ago there were still millions of them, herds almost comparable to the vast armies of bison which roamed the same Great Plains. But the enormous ranges which were once the home of countless bison and antelope are now fenced-in farms; the race of the bison almost went out of existence, and the antelope seemed destined to the same fate as the extinct passenger pigeon. A careful census a few years ago resulted in an estimate of fewer than 5,000 antelope, and those seemed doomed. Most of the survivors ran the deserts of the southwest, but each year hunters searched for them in automobiles; even airplanes were called upon to find the vanishing herds. But the government took up the defense of the antelope. Efforts have been made to "plant" antelope in likely ranges whence they had vanished, as on the floor of the Grand canyon, and hay has been provided for them when the snow lay deep. The antelope census of 1927 reported fewer than 7,000 in the national lands; last year the figure was 7,000; this year it is 8,500.

The bison has been rescued; the elk of the Yellowstone are increasing; the great moose, too, apparently can be made to come back. Beaver, once almost extinct in the northwest, have been "replanted" and are now spreading, even within 50 miles of New York City. Probably ten times as many deer range the northwest today as there were a quarter century ago. There are farmers in Connecticut today, angry at the depredations of the protected deer, who never saw a deer before they were fifty years old. One of the few animals which seem definitely doomed to extinction, and that for reasons which even the scientists do not fully understand, is the grizzly bear. Two years ago the animal census reported 5,814 of the big bears; this year only 3,400—and that figure includes the Alaskan brown bears. A public aware to the facts, supporting government endeavors can restore something of the old abundance of wild life. But it requires effort—New York Herald Tribune.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Penalty of Late Hours

When you have something wrong with you some bodily ailment which is so painful that you wonder if anything could be worse, you don't feel like taking the matter lightly. You belong to this class of ailments. They are all too common.

DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

That is, ailments which are frequent in the spring of the year. Persons who in late hours during the winter, in late hours, lack of sleep, midnight suppers and other midnight diversions are prone to a "let-down" afterward. No matter what the cause may be, just as sure as yep, powers of resistance are lowered your system is ready to pick up any infection that may happen along.

Both are caused by some form of germ. The skin is never free from germs, although it is so constructed as to be a pretty reliable covering and protection to the underlying tissues. Any injury, such as a scratch or a hard rubbing of the skin may permit a pus-producing germ to penetrate. Under the right conditions the germ soon becomes a boil.

One may have an itching ear and a scratch brings to the part one of the many germs flying about in the air, or the germ lodges in some congested place, and that terribly painful thing, a boil appears.

So many diseases are conveyed by the hands that you should never forget the importance of frequent washing. Clean hands and clean finger nails are a protection against infection of the skin and particularly against boils.

Sometimes, at the very beginning, the boil may be checked. Hot water applications may be used, or applying camphor may allay the inflammation. A 15 per cent solution of carbolide acid in glycerin applied to the sore may give relief.

In case a boil should make its appearance it is well to look into your general health. Your doctor should be consulted to see what is wrong. It may be trouble with the kidneys, constipation or some other difficulty. Where a series of boils appear, it may indicate diabetes.

Be careful of the diet and eat simple foods, including fresh fruit. Especially good for such a condition is drinking lemonade or lemon juice every day. Pastry should be shunned.

A general bath should be taken every day. Drink plenty of water. Get out daily into the fresh air and sunshine. You should get enough exercise daily to produce a good sweat. There is nothing better to carry off the impurities of the skin.

The Stars Say—For Friday, January 3. The astral operations for this day point to a rather routine state of affairs, with possibly much to tax the amiability and good nature. This is largely owing to a personal tendency to moroseness or sultriness, with flares of impatience or irritability. Under such depressed states of mind and attitude it would be well to allow events to move along in accustomed grooves.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a fairly mediocre year, with affairs following the usual trend, unless they are disturbed by a personal tendency to irritability, contention and sultriness. This attitude taken into domestic, affectional or social affairs may prove depressing and have disagreeable reactions. A child born on this day may have a tendency to depression and melancholy states of mind alternating with moments of contentment and irritability, which may have very disagreeable reactions on its success and peace of mind. It should be taken in hand early in life and given a cheerful and optimistic outlook.

POLICE TO QUIZ REJECTED LOVER IN BOMB BLAST

One Dead, Six Injured Following Explosion In Residence

CHILDREN LISTED AMONG CASUALTIES

Family Gathers Around Infernal Machine, Then Opened

Seat Pleasant, Md., Jan. 2.—Police today will question a middle-aged rejected suitor in connection with the bomb outrage at the home of John S. Hall, a grave digger, which resulted in the death of Mrs. Naomi Hall Brady, 18-year-old daughter, and serious injury to six members of the Hall family. The bomb, loaded with dynamite and nails, was concealed in a Christmas present, and the Hall family gathered around it anticipating a glad surprise. It exploded soon as the lid of the box was lifted, with a detonation that could be heard a mile.

Mrs. Brady, to whom the package was addressed, was horribly mutilated and died shortly afterward at a casualty hospital in Washington.

Those injured were:

Mrs. Nora Hall, 49, Mrs. Brady's mother, who lost an eye and suffered injuries to her abdomen.

Ledie Hall, 16, a brother, who lost two fingers and was badly cut about the face.

Mrs. Margaret Bromley, 86, Mrs. Brady's grandmother, concussion of the brain and shock.

Dorothy Hall, 4, injured head, face and body.

Samuel Hall, 19 months, facial, head and body injuries similar to those suffered by Dorothy.

Three members of the family, estimated to be at work in the Olivet cemetery: Norris Hall, 4, 1, 20, was also at work, and Robert Hall, another son, was in the back yard.

Mrs. Hall opened the package with the family gathered around her. It had been previously left at the doorstep of a neighbor, who brought it to the Hall home.

The explosion hurled the family in every direction and the kitchen was wrecked. The package, which looked as if it might contain candy, was wrapped in brown paper and had Christmas seals and Yuletide greetings pasted on it.

An investigation by local police caused them to begin a search for the man who is known to have proposed to Naomi Hall two years ago. She refused him and last June married Herman Brady, a 22-year-old farmer of this vicinity.

BOY LOSES LIFE TRYING RESCUE

Body Recovered following Search By Police; Swimmer Rescues

Tungstown, Jan. 2.—Going to "W" rescue of a playmate, who broke through the ice while playing on the Glacier, Jackie Conroy, nine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Conroy, was drowned here.

The boy, with his brother, Arthur, and Donald Curley, nine, was playing hockey when the ice gave way and Curley was plunged into the water.

The two brothers went to his rescue. Jackie disappeared under the ice.

When firemen failed to retrieve the boy's body after a half hour's search, Edward Curley, 26, a brother of Donald Curley, plunged into the icy water and brought the body to the surface.

WET BATTLE

ance, as an invasion of personal liberties guaranteed the individual the right of the constitution. The supreme court has held wire tapping illegal.

Modification Asked

A modification of Volstead law and provision for taking of a national "wet" and "dry" referendum as part of the 1936 census also may become a part of the platform.

I am confident the anti-prohibitionists of the house will present a real wet platform to congress during the nation in the near future," said Rep. Schafer (R.) of Wis., explaining the plan.

Several methods of modifying Volstead act will be considered. Hall advocates a program in line with the temperance plan of Justice Franklin Chase Hoyt of New York in the Hearst papers contest.

Repeal or modification of Section 11 of the tariff act of 1922 certainly will be urged. Under this provision, the present interpretation of customs officers have powers to seize to seizures in war time.

They may shoot if someone fails to stop at their command. Abuse of this has already led to the killing of many innocent people.

"The criticism of Judge McCormick of the president's law enforcement commission of the illegal acts of prohibition officers and their failure to recognize the doctrine that a man's home is his castle will be the subject of another plank.

"The 'wets' never have and never will attempt to block the reasonable demands of government agencies charged with administration of the law. Some anti-prohibitionists would appropriate hundreds of millions just to prove the law can't be enforced. I am opposed to pouring the taxpayers' money down a sewer."

BETTMAN RULES ON AID FUNDS

Crippled Children Affected by Opinion Given To Prosecutor

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—Approximately 1,400 crippled children in Ohio are affected by a ruling issued today by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman to prosecuting attorneys Don W. Myers, Lorain county, Bettman held that the Ohio state permitting a county to pay "board, personal necessities, and medical and surgical treatment of indigent crippled children who have been committed to the state welfare department" are sufficiently broad to include hospital care.

These charges for hospital care, attorney general ruled, are properly payable from the county's general fund. Many benevolent fraternal organizations, including the Masons, Rotarians, Lions, and Knights of Columbus, are intensely interested in plans for the care of crippled children.

Bettman held that the county authorities may recommend to the county budget commission that a definite amount be included in the budget for payment of hospital bills of the county's indigent crippled children. Before this money is available, however, the amount fixed by the commission must be appropriated by the county commissioners.

The suggestion that the county, with the approval of the state bureau of supervision of public officers, establish a separate fund for the hospital care of crippled children was made by Bettman.

This, he pointed out, would result in the safeguarding of the amount appropriated, because no transfers could be made from said fund when the established for this specific purpose.

These are the days when Christmas neckties begin to appear — and we're counting the number of red ones we see!

Keep the walks clean. It's easy with these handy snow shovels we are selling.

Don't forget that we have skates and sleds for girls too!

Ain't it the Truth? We struggle hard to lay up jack — to spare our sons the fuss-of bucking up against the breaks—that made men out of us!

We have about every size sled made and they are the kind that go the fastest.

Here's something that struck us as pretty true—"The best way to kill time is to work it to death!"

Snow calls for Skis. Come in and get a pair. You cannot imagine the fun you can have.

It has been our observation (if any) that folk go to bed earlier and get up earlier on a pullman than they'd think of doing at home.

Once again—"A Very Happy New Year"—and may God bless us every one, as Tiny Tim would have remarked.

Social Affairs

FRANTZ-BAIRD

Miss Irene Frantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frantz, north-west of Salem and Frank Baird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Baird, of Patuxent, were the principals in a pretty wedding at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Bunkerhill church, northwest of the city. Rev. C. F. Rothel officiated using the ring service. Pinks were used effectively in the decorations. Mrs. William Weingart played the wedding music.

About 150 guests witnessed the nuptials, including relatives from Salem, Alliance and Cleveland.

The bride was gowned in a creation of peach colored georgette and carried a shower bouquet of roses.

The attendants were Miss Edith Baird, sister of the groom, and Thomas Frantz, brother of the bride. Miss Baird wore a brown georgette dress with accessories to match. Her bouquet was snapdragons.

Following the service there was a reception for the young people at the Frantz home for relatives.

Mrs. Baird is a graduate of Salem High school. Mr. Baird is engaged in farming. They have furnished a home northwest of Salem.

HOST TO FRIENDS

Among the enjoyable social functions of the Yuletide season was the turkey dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Paparodis at the Metzger hotel, at which they entertained 50 friends.

Decorations in the new reception hall, and on the table, expressed in the season's colors, were very attractive.

A specialty dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. M. Richards of Youngstown, and the Italian tango by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Beatty, of Youngstown, was a feature. Music by the Martini trio added pleasure.

Some of the guests were from Ambridge, Pa., Rochester, Beaver Falls, and Youngstown.

Coroner's Verdict Is Murder; Body Found

Cincinnati, Jan. 2.—Coroner C. F. Swing today said that Forest Eastin, 27, a hotel fireman, whose lifeless and battered body was found in Clear creek, near here, had been murdered.

Eastin's head was crushed by heavy blows and his wrists had been cut.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Jan. 2.—It will be a very black winter according to all reports from French couturiers who declare that no amount of color can ever be as chic as black, especially for evening wear.

One can't really say that black has come back again, for it has never left smart circles and with every third woman wearing black to smart Parisian gatherings, one must admit that the future looks rather dark ahead.

Mrs. M. T. Johnson, one of the pretty members of the American colony, is wearing "Magne Noire," a new gown in dead black heavy georgette. It has the new long fluid silhouette with ripples about the bottom of the skirt.

Madame Andre Hunebelle is wearing a dead black velvet model called "Chiquita," with a deep V-shaped décolletage both back and front with a fitted bodice, high waistline and wide skirt formed of circular volants.

For the fuller figure one of the dressmakers is showing a black, satin charmeuse which is form-fitting and most becoming to any size.

Mrs. Harold Talbot has chosen black georgette for a smart dinner dress with the short-in-front line.

One house uses two kinds of black lace, one of large design and another of open mesh, suggesting tulle, for a smart evening frock. At the waistline in the center-back two motifs of green and gold beads hold the fullness of two shirred panels and a shirred tunic with very long movement falls to the feet. Another lovely gown in black tulle is bordered with Grecian design in steel beads which accentuate the movement.

Gains Weight As Konjola Gives Quick Relief

Grateful Lady Tells What New Medicine Did For Herself And Her Son

MRS. JOSEPH ZEMAN

"This amazing medicine quickly ended two years of suffering for me," said Mrs. Joseph Zeman, of Euclid Village, a suburb of Cleveland, Ohio. "My stomach had become badly disordered and my food never digested as it should. Gas pains and bloating were followed by the most frightful headaches I was often forced to go to bed for days at a time. Neuritis attacked my arms until I could not raise them and I was practically helpless. I never gave up my search for a medicine to help me and finally tried Konjola. In two weeks I gained several pounds in weight and my stomach ailment had been corrected. A week later the neuritis pains left me and I could use my arms again. My whole general health so improved that I feel better than I have in many years. Neuritis also attacked my son Louis, aged 18, and Konjola acted just as promptly in his case. I shall never be without this wonderful medicine in our home."
Konjola is sold in Salem at Ell J. H. Konjola drug store. (Mr. Kaminsky) and by all the leading druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Historic Relic Is Pennsylvania Find

Leighton, Pa., Jan. 2.—An historic relic which brings to mind the days following the Civil war was discovered recently by N. B. Petty, of Leighton, when he found a campaign coin bearing the busts of Seymour and Blair. The coin which bore the date of 1863 was found near the race track of the local fair grounds.

On the back of the relic is the slogan "Central amnesty, uniform currency, equal taxes, equal rights." At the time the coin was issued, Horace Seymour, then governor of New York state, was opposed to General U. S. Grant and was defeated for the presidency of the United States. With him on the Democratic ticket seeking office in the New Hampshire state legislature was William Henry Blair, who was elected.

Just how the piece of copper reached this part of Pennsylvania will probably never be known, but a theory has been advanced that it was carried to the race track by the recent centennial as a lucky piece back in the days when horse racing was America's greatest sport.

HOOVER

face serious attacks from the wet ranks on the issue of its functions. The wets have asserted all along that the commission was created to determine first, whether the dry law can be enforced, and second, the means of enforcement if it can be enforced. They will argue that the commission, by abandoning the first half of this program, has rendered its findings worthless. This argument will go hand in hand with the wet contention that all increase in crime can be laid to the door of prohibition and that once the prohibition problem is properly solved the general crime wave can be controlled and eliminated.

The dries have taken just the opposite stand. So long as prohibition is in the constitution, they have said, the only question to be determined by congress is how to properly enforce it. They naturally will support the commission's determination not to investigate the "wisdom of prohibition."

Praises Group's Work

"I am glad to learn," was the way Jones announced this decision, "that the commission is unanimous that the wisdom or unwisdom of the eighteenth amendment is not involved in their work; that it is part of the constitution and that the function of the commission is to devise the best means possible for its enforcement."

Jones added that the commission's greatest problem was to solve the industrial alcohol question and to determine bone-dry restrictions for the handling of it. He said the commission probably would conclude all its prohibition inquiries by July 1 and added "if it can devise a method by which punishment for law violations can be made more swift and sure, it will have fully justified its creation."

The wets naturally took a different view. Led by Senator Blaine (R.) of Wts., they protested against the commission ignoring the question of the prohibition law's "enforceability."

"Surrendered Function"

"If the statement is true that the commission will not inquire into the wisdom or unwisdom of the prohibition law, then it has surrendered one of its most important functions. Its primary function was to determine whether there is proper enforcement of all law in the United States and if not, to recommend a remedy. How can it ignore the question of the enforceability of prohibition, if that law cannot be enforced? Every unbiased man knows prohibition is at the root of all evil in this country today. It seems the commission is dodging the very job for which it was created."

"The commission certainly should report the facts to congress. One of the facts should be whether or not prohibition can be enforced. If it is simply going to recommend methods for spending more of the taxpayer's money, then it will have accomplished nothing, congress already has all the facts it needs to spend money and we might well have saved the cost of the commission itself if that is all its going to do."

GARMENT STRIKE SEEMS PROBABLE

5,000 Workers Would Be Affected By Order
Next Week

Cleveland, Jan. 2.—Local officials of the Ladies Garment Workers Union were proceeding with plans today for a general strike here to be called some time next week. The strike will affect 5,000 workers.

Benjamin Schlesinger, New York president of the International Union organization, and Julius Hochman, vice president, will come here next week to take personal charge of the strike—the first of several to be called to cloak centers of the country.

Two meetings have been called to discuss plans for the walkout. One is scheduled Saturday morning at which all shop delegates will receive instructions for procedure in the strike. On Monday, the 5,000 workers will assemble to hear the completed plans.

Abolition of the alleged sweat shop, a 40-hour week in place of the 44-hour week, and a guarantee by manufacturers of wages due workers in shops where the manufacturers have contracted work, are the demands of the union in calling the strike.

"MARRIED IN HOLLYWOOD"

At The Royal

A philandering son of royalty, "Prince Nicholas," young, handsome, polished and brilliant, is the role played by J. Harold Murray in the production of the Viennese song romance, "Married In Hollywood," a gorgeous production which is expected to make talking screen history. "Married In Hollywood" is the feature at Royal Theatre.

"Prince Nicholas" attends the opera in Vienna on a night when the star is ill and her understudy, "Mary Lou Hopkins," an American girl from Kalamazoo, Michigan, sings the role. Norma Terris plays this role and the Prince is intrigued with her. He sends his adjutant to practically command her to take supper with him but she refuses.

He consoles himself with a woman, who occupied the adjoining box and with whom he flirted. Later he comes to meet "Mary Lou" again and a romance develops. On the eve of their betrothal a revolution occurs and royalty is wiped out. But before the revolution, the Prince's mother had arranged with an adjutant to have a note sent Mary Lou breaking the engagement. She flees to America and the Prince follows in the steamer of another ship. Joe Gutner (Walter Catlett), a movie producer, hears Mary Lou sing on shipboard and sees stellar qualities in her.

He takes her to Hollywood under another name and she becomes a star. In her big production, a call is sent out for foreign extras and the one-time Prince is in the group.

In a strange way they come together again and are "Married In Hollywood."

Murray, long a Broadway musical comedy favorite, is considered an ideal choice for the role of "Prince Nicholas."

"PARIS"

At The State

Paris is a city of gaiety and light and fun—and music.

And "Paris," the first National picture starring Irene Bordoni, which opens at the State theatre, is just like the city in all these respects—not least in that of music.

The score of the production, in fact, is fairly overflowing with melody. Among the outstanding numbers are such tinkling and tuneful creations as "Miss Wonderful," "My Lover, Master of My Heart," "Somebody Might Like You" and "I Wonder What Is Really On His Mind."

These were all written by Al Bryan and Eddie Ward, former Broadway songsmiths who are now exercising their creative gifts under contract at the First National Studios at Burbank, Cal. Bryan wrote the lyrics, while the tunes were composed by Ward.

"WELCOME DANGER"

At The Grand

Gales of laughter swept the Grand theatre yesterday when Harold Lloyd's latest feature comedy opened there for a scheduled four-day run.

This picture is one of the greatest examples of why Harold Lloyd is the most popular active comedian in the world today. It clearly evidences a genius for bringing plot, action, comedy and romance to the screen in such a manner as to tickle the funny-bones and ease the millions of men, women and children all over the globe. It is a picture universal in its scope. Complex, yet comprehensible; fast, yet not tracy; humorous yet not ridiculous; lovable yet not mawkish.

We discover Harold as a serious-minded young Boston botanist immersed in his books on floriculture. But fate has ruled that he must be plunged into swifter, more exciting currents of activity. Friends of his deceased father, one-time captain of the San Francisco police force, decide to invite Harold to take over the job of clearing up gangsters and Tong men in the city's underground Chinatown. They presume that Harold will display the same courageous and iron-fisted power in office that his father had shown.

The innocent Harold goes to "Prisco." By a lucky break he scores a victory over a group of underworld denizens the first day he is in the city. He applies botanical methods to the art of finger-printing, and gets a clew to the ring-leader of the lawless element.

Then come the big thrills—he goes into a dank and mysterious underground Oriental den to rescue a kindly Chinese doctor who had effected a miraculous cure of the little brother of Harold's sweetheart, Barbara Kent. It is one continuous thrill interjected with rapid-fire laughs and eggs from that point to the finish. Of course Harold makes good, but it is the "how" of it that makes this picture a classic of the fun-maker's art.

Third Week Of City League Court Competition Ends Tonight

Golden Eagle Opposes Grate Motors; Printz Club Meets Lodgemen

The third week of city league basketball ends with the closing whistle of the week's most important game, that which involves the Golden Eagle in a court duel with the Grate Motors at Memorial gym tonight.

The Golden Eagle to-date has won two consecutive contests and should come through with its third straight and advance into a tie for first place in the circuit with the Electric Furnace tossers.

With Allen, Older, Cope, Kelley and other floor stars in the Golden Eagle lineup, it looks like the class of the league. In the two games played this team has amassed for itself more than 100 points while the opponents scored less than 30.

But the league race is far from over. Everyone of the eight teams has at least four games to play, while the quartet that are involved in tonight's games have five remaining on their schedule. The league runs until late next month and to all appearances the city championship will not be decided until that time.

Smooth Working Team
Solbert Greenberg's team is one of the smoothest working aggregations represented in city league competition in years. For that matter most of the teams are an improvement over past years' aggregations and the league is bound to turn out an even greater success than that of the 1928-29 season which established a precedent that any circuit will find hard to surpass.

If the Golden Eagle loses tonight it will be the biggest upset of the season to-date but far more unexpected than the victory over the Grate Motors. The Motors have a fairly strong team composed of lads who play together continually and lack only the flashy offensive tactics of the Golden Eagle to develop into one of the titular threats. A win for the Motors will place the Furnace on top of the heap and give the Grate crew a tie for second place with the Golden Eagles and McArthur Florists.

The Printz Klub, with one victory and one defeat, meets the Eagles lodge, occupants of eight-place position in the loop, in the first game tonight. Neither of these teams has yet shown promise of hurling any of the leaders chances in the race.

The McArthur Florists issued the warning that they are still in the running for the title despite their one defeat in three games, in their annihilation of the touted Art Jewelers this week. At present everything points towards a three-cornered race between the Florists, Furnace and Golden Eagle.

WESTERN TEAM CRUSHES PIT

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 2.—After administering the most crushing defeat ever dealt to an opponent in the annual Pasadena Rose tournament game, the southern California Trojans today laid away their mole-skins for the season. Heralded as one of the best teams in the east, the Pittsburgh Panthers were smothered by a score of 47 to 14.

California supporters were given a chill early in the game. Uansa, on the first play from scrimmage, got away for a 60-yard gallop—a feat which made the customers believe the Trojans were in for a rough afternoon.

It wasn't long, however, before the Trojans untracked themselves. They found that Pitt was lamentably weak against a passing attack, so the Trojans started hurling the ball for touchdowns. At half time southern California was leading by a score of 26 to 0.

When the Pitt defense spread out to check the Trojan aerial game in the second half, the power backs crashed through the Panther forward wall for great gains.

Many of Pitt's reverse plays proved to be boomerangs because of fumbling. The Panthers fumbled six times and five of them were pounced upon by alert Trojans.

Unable to pierce the Trojan forward wall, the Panthers took to the air themselves in the closing half, scoring a pair of touchdowns via the overhead game.

New Haven, Jan. 2—Prof. Harold J. Laski of University of London, will postpone for a year, his projected journey to New Haven to become visiting professor of political science and law at Yale. His prime minister has called him to investigate the administrative machinery of the British government, and Yale has released him from his obligation here. Prof. Laski was to have given courses in the graduate school at Yale but these courses, Yale announces, have been withdrawn for the time being.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agents for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, (adv.)

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 50c and 60c.

Father John's Medicine Made Them Strong and Healthy

Mrs. A. Hildebrand of 106 Greendale St., Methuen, Mass., says: "I am greatly pleased to let you know how wonderful Father John's Medicine has been for us. My two children offer a living proof of its value. Before using it they were ailing most of the time and had frequent colds. Now I give it to them constantly and they are strong and in the best of health."

Father John's Medicine is a pure and wholesome food medicine which is easily taken up, even by a weakened system and builds new strength with which to fight off colds and coughs. It soothes and heals the breathing passages, its pure food elements build new flesh and strength. It is guaranteed free from alcohol and dangerous drugs.

Father John's Medicine is Used In 184 Hospitals and Institutions

BECAUSE they are entirely too good at their job, some thousands of American dairy cows are slated for slaughter in the near future. If their owners knew their economics, so say members of the rural economics staff of the Ohio State University. The cows have conspired with their owners to defeat and nullify the American tariff law by putting the United States on an export rather than an import basis as regards butter. The upshot of this has been loss of the protection of the tariff of 12 cents a pound on butter, and the sharpest drop in prices of butter and butterfat, which has taken place at this season of any year since the World War.

Production of butter has been steadily increasing for several years. Consumption of butter has been decreasing. Storage stocks have piled up. This year, for the first time in several years, the country has exported more butter than it has imported. As a result, butter prices are about 10 cents a pound below where they were at this time last year, and within four cents of the price of Danish butter on the London market. The normal spread is from eight to 12 cents.

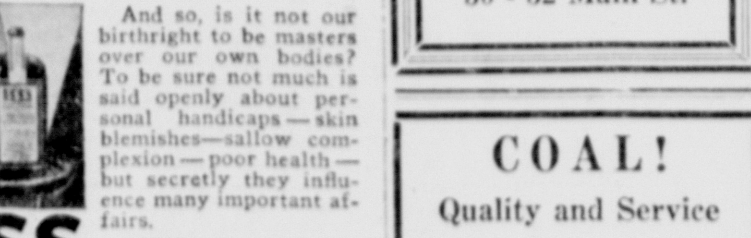

Remedies Suggested.

Two remedies for this condition are in the hands of the producers, according to C. R. Arnold and C. G. McBride, of the university staff. One remedy is to decrease the number of dairy cows by selling the less profitable of them to the butcher. The other is to eat more butter and persuade other people to do the same thing.

So delicately balanced is the relation between exports and imports of butter that if farm families alone abandoned their use of butter substitutes for the use of butter itself, the increased consumption would

YOUTHFULNESS and BEAUTY are dependent upon a strong body - firm flesh - a clear skin

NOTHING is more beautiful, more inspiring, more glorified than the supreme manifestation of Nature in the human body. Those sparkling eyes, that clear skin, that firm flesh, and that vigor of action denoting vitality, bespeak loveliness and internal healthfulness.

And so, is it not our birthright to be masters over our own bodies? To be sure not much is said openly about personal handicaps—skin blemishes—sallow complexion—poor health—but secretly they influence many important affairs.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of skin blemishes, lack of appetite, flabby flesh and loss of energy as an indication that the body's power of resistance is low—that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

This is why so many thousands, seeking youthfulness and beauty, have taken a course of S.S.S. It helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Without plenty of rich, red-blood-cells there would be no strong, sturdy, powerful men or beautiful, healthy women.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. It promotes healthy body building. It increases the number of red-blood-cells. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Now S.S.S. BUILDS STURDY HEALTH

causes. One is the intensive and appealing advertising which has been done by manufacturers of butter substitutes, advertising which has not been equalled by the producers of butter and butter products. The other factor is the industrial depression which is beginning to be felt and which is influencing many families to substitute something of lower cost for butter.

BACK IN THE OLDEN DAYS there was a timid soul that said: "SELF-PRAISE IS HALF SCANDAL," but today, the modern fellow says: "TELL IT TO THE WORLD!"

It pays to go to the Buick Dealer

Two used cars may look much the same from the outside. Mileage, model, tires and general appearance may be all about alike.

Yet there may be a great deal of difference nevertheless—a difference in mechanical condition which will soon show up in actual driving.

You have only the word of the dealer to go by.

That's why it pays to go to the Buick dealer. You can rely on what he says. And you may be sure his price is fair.

TO THE HOUSEWIVES AND MERCHANTS OF SALEM ... Thank You!

SUGARDALE closes the most successful year in its history, and we thank you for it. You have justified our expectations and our confidence in you. The Sugardale Provision Company was formed by a group of experienced provision men because they believed the people of this section would appreciate finer, more pure and more dependable meats than they had been getting.

Therefore, Sugardale standards were made exacting. Only the finest, young, most tender meats have ever been used. These meats are inspected and re-inspected. Ingredients added, such as spices, are imported from the most choice world markets. Recipes are followed exactly. The meat is prepared in kitchens as spotless as your own, and then is carefully wrapped for purity and your convenience.

Finally, continuous research and study is conducted to bring to you the finest, newest, tastiest recipes the cooks of the world can produce. To this end Mr. Harry Lavin, our president, has just spent a year and a half in Europe, studying the methods and learning the secrets of the world-famous chefs of Germany, France and other continental countries.

These high Sugardale standards have always been lived up to and always will be. The overwhelming preference for Sugardale meats on the part of merchants and housewives proves that you want those high grade products. Our pledge to you is that whenever you buy Sugardale meats you can eat them with confidence—sure they will be the superior product you have come to expect.
